STARTLING CREATURES

WHEN SCIENCE RIVALS FICTION

The St. Lawrence, inhabited by extraordinary creatures, offers you a journey in its waters...

Did you know, that some marine animals electrocute their prey?

That others can regenerate their organs?

That some reproduce without a partner?

Or that some are manipulators who take control of other species brain?

You didn't? Then, discover this new exhibit and beware...

What if fiction was in fact reality...

REALIZED IN 2021
